

Important Notice Regarding UK Financial Promotion Regime

Neural ID Pay S.R.L. complies fully with the requirements of the UK Financial Promotion Regime as outlined in the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (FSMA) and subsequent amendments, including the updated regulations governing crypto-assets.

We do not provide services to retail clients who are residents of the United Kingdom. Neural ID Pay S.R.L. is not authorized by the Financial Conduct Authority (FCA) to promote or offer crypto transactions to UK residents.

If you are a retail client residing in the United Kingdom, please note the following:

- Our platform and services are not available to you.
- We have implemented measures to restrict access to our platform from the UK. Any attempt to bypass these restrictions, including through the use of VPNs or other tools, is strictly prohibited.
- All information provided on this website must not be construed as an offer, promotion, or solicitation for crypto transactions directed towards UK retail clients.

This restriction applies specifically to retail clients as defined by the FCA. If you are a professional or institutional client, please contact us at compliance@neuralpay.io to discuss whether our services are available to you.

Neural ID Pay S.R.L. shall not be held liable for any unauthorized use of its services by individuals who attempt to circumvent these restrictions.

We monitor activity to ensure compliance and reserve the right to block accounts or report violations to the appropriate authorities.

If you have questions about this policy or need further clarification, please contact us at contact@neuralpay.io. For independent advice, we recommend consulting a qualified legal professional or contacting the Financial Conduct Authority directly.
